GREATER LOWELL TECH

CLASS OF

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

2011

Mary Jo Santoro

Superintendent - Director

Dear Class of 2011,

As you move to the next stage of your life, be confident that you have the foundation necessary to succeed in whatever path you choose. Some of you will pursue postsecondary educational opportunities. Some will pursue employment opportunities. Some of you will do both. There is no doubt, you will succeed.

For each of you, regardless of the path you have chosen, you are well prepared to meet the challenges and wonders that await you; however, just as it was you who reached your goal to earn a high school diploma, you too hold the key to your own future success.

As you begin your journey and set new goals, I ask you to take with you two of the most important concepts I believe we worked hard to teach you during your years at Greater Lowell - respect and responsibility.

Demonstrate respect for others through your words and actions at all times. Even during times of conflict and disagreement remember we as people are all deserving of respectful behavior and simple human kindness. It is okay to disagree. It is okay to challenge others' ideas and opinions. Do it with respect and dignity and follow the single most important rule "treat others as you want to be treated". Above all else, respect yourselves. Ponder your choices carefully. Take care of your mind, your body and your soul. Be a role model to those who surround you. Exemplify respect.

Take responsibility. Stand up for what you believe is right. Get out of Facebook and get face to face. Take responsibility for your words and actions. Find your voice and let it be heard. Expect to fail; it is essential to the learning process. Famous inventor Thomas Edison once said, "I failed my way to success."

Take responsibility for your successes and your failures. When something doesn't work the first time get back up, brush yourself off and find another way to try it again. Always do the very best you can with what you've got and you will never go wrong. Take responsibility and be there when expected, follow through with assignments and jobs, meet deadlines and timelines, and keep your commitments.

Never forget your roots. You are Greater Lowell Technical High School graduates, you are Gryphons, you are smart, capable and proud, and we are so proud of each and every one of you!!

Congratulations Class of 2011...well wishes on your journey.
